

KEM Mobile Message Service Terms and Conditions

- Last updated: 9-24-2024
- The KEM mobile message service is operated by KEM using Ring Central Cloud phone service. Your use of the Service constitutes your agreement to these terms and conditions (“Mobile Terms”). We may modify or cancel the Service or any of its features without notice. To the extent permitted by law, we may modify these Mobile Terms and your continued use of the Service shall constitute your acceptance of the changes.
- By consenting to KEM’s SMS/text messaging service, you agree to receive SMS/text messages from and on behalf of KEM through your wireless provider to the mobile number you provided. This will occur regardless of your mobile number’s registration to any state or federal Do Not Call list.
- We do not charge for the Service, but you are responsible for charges and fees for text messaging charged by your wireless provider. Message frequency varies. Message and data rates may apply. Check your mobile plan and contact your wireless provider for details. You are solely responsible for all charges related to SMS/text messages, including charges from your wireless provider.
- The wireless carriers supported by the Service are not liable for delayed or undelivered messages.
- To the extent permitted by applicable law, you agree that we will not be liable for failed, delayed, misdirected delivery, errors in information, and/or any action you may or may not take in reliance on the information or Service.

- We will never share, trade or otherwise sell your personal information such as Phone numbers and SMS content to third parties under any circumstances.
